There was one principle of first importance which should never be forgotten, viz., that the advance towards federation should proceed primarily from the colonies, and that no change should be made in the existing system without their previous and full consent. While he considered that the creation of a consultative council at the Colonia Office, composed mainly of the Agents General of the self-governing provinces of the Empire-Mr. Forster, and other men of weight and experience had advocated—ought to be established a federation, som what on the lines of the federal systems of Germany and of the United States, would probably become imperative at a future Wo Ahoi. It was incredible that Australasia and Canada, as they would be 50 years hence, probably much sconer, would consent to share the expense of Diplomatic and Consular services, &c., or would allow themselves to be dragged into foreign wars, unless they had a voice in some kind of Imperial conneil or federal assembly analogous to the Congress of the United States and to the Reichstag of United Germany. It would be Nuisances, for having a number of men weighing recolled of that Adam Smith in his "Wealth-of Nations" strongly urged the admission of representatives from the old American colonies ing a claim for balance due for the rout of a For a like offence Wong Kat, of No. 14, into the British Parliament. And at the present time all the French, Spanish, and Portuguese Colonies sent representatives to the National Legislatures at Paris, Madrid, and Lisbon respectively. England was the only colonizing nation which still excluded her colonists from all voice in the national councils. Such a measure as that recommended by Adam Smith would have prevented the separation of the United States in the last century ; but it would now have to be modified in form though not in principle for England, Ireland, Scotland, Australasia, Canada, the Cape, and theother chief provinces of the Empire would, each and all, not be content at the present day without local selfgovernment and legislation for their local and municipal affairs. The future Imperial (or Civil and Diplomatic Services, the Army and local Parliaments in England, Scotland, Ireland, local matters dealt with by the State Legislatures in America and by the Diets of the several States in Germany. I had suffered for some length of time from a severe form of indigestion, and the long train of distressing symptoms means to get relief, by seeking the best medical advice. I had awallowed sufficient of their stuff to flort a man-of-war, so to speak, but all to no avail. A friend of mine, coming on the scene in the midst of my sufferings, brought with him a Hongkong, Canton, and Macao Stoamboat Co.'s bottle of your Seigel Syrup; he advised me to try Shares—362 per cent. prem., sellers. it, stating he felt confident it would be nofit me. Being weary of trying so many drugs, I condemned it before trial, thinking it could not possibly do me any good, but ultimately determined to take the Syrup. After doing so for a short ed taking it for nearly two months, and I then use for five weeks, and feel in the best of health. and can partake any kind of food with ease and comfort. I am therefore thankful to you that, medicine. I am restored to the state of health l

Messrs. White and Co., London. "Gentlemen,-It is with great pleasure that I add my testimony to the wonderful effects of Punjom and Sunghie Dua Samantan Mining from bilions attacks, which began with giddiness; then a mist would come before my eyes, so anything at the distance of a yard or two from trembling of my knees, so that I could not stand would occur, lasting often two or three days. I Hongkong and Macao Glass Manufacturing Co., have tried various remedies for these distressing symptoms, but until I tried Seigel's Syrup I had no relief. Since then I have had excellent health in every respect, and if ever I feel a headache I used) to try the Syrup, as I feel sure they will receive speedy beneat and ultimately be cured. I beg to remain, yours faithfully, 2064—3 "A. H. HORTON."
